Subject Allocations

Your child may notice that they may have been allocated to a subject they elected as a reserve. All curriculum decisions have been made with the best interests of every student, considering both their preferences and their academic progress. Each student has been meeting with a representative from the leadership team to hear their allocations and share their thoughts. You will also receive their allocations in writing via email.

Thank you again for your support. The office team are unable to share individual subject allocations or classes but if you have any other questions or queries, please e-mail them to: parents@uhs.org.uk.

Yours sincerely
